

Dr Amy Iannella

Amy completed her PhD researching the co-evolution of rabbits and RHDV at the University of Adelaide in 2019 (Funded by Rabbit Free Australia and the Invasive Animals CRC). Since then she has been trying to keep her toes in the water with rabbit genetics research while raising two adorable and demanding toddlers.

